Podsumowanie

I graduated from Wrocław Business University with a degree in Computer Science, gaining a solid foundation in programming, application design, and working with web technologies. I have commercial experience as a Frontend Developer, and I've also completed full-cycle projects – from concept to deployment – using JavaScript/TypeScript, React, C#, ASP.NET, and databases.

My main skills include building web applications with .NET and JavaScript, integrating with APIs, working with Git version control, and designing interfaces with HTML, CSS, and tools like Figma and Miro. I know the basics of UX/UI, write clean code, and work effectively in a team.

I'm currently developing as a Full Stack Developer, improving my skills at GO-IT, and at the same time learning QA to better understand software testing and quality assurance processes. I combine practical experience with continuous learning, focusing on efficiency, quality, and modern technologies.
